"In '67 it started in jest at a place called Terlingua, way out west.

Where coyotes made their rounds when the sun went down, and the contestants prepared for the test."

- Tom Skipper

History

The Original Terlingua International Frank X. Tolbert - Wick Fowler Memorial Championship Chili Cook-Off is the “granddaddy” of all chili cook-offs in the United States and worldwide.

Founded in 1967 by Frank X. Tolbert and Wick Fowler to settle a dispute about whether Texans or New Yorkers knew more about chili, it started as a two-man stunt and has grown to attract thousands of attendees from around the world every year.

It has been and continues to be one of the most quintessential Texan events that takes place in our great state. Our family friendly, safe, yet quirky and fun event is a yearly “desert home” for thousands of “chili-heads” who enjoy keepin’ things Texan, one “bowl of red” at a time.

Mission / Fundraising

Festival co-founder, Wick Fowler died of ALS on September 22nd, 1972. To honor his memory, the mission of The Cook-off is to celebrate the State Dish of Texas, Chili, in addition to raising charitable funds to support finding a cure for ALS.

The primary beneficiary of our ALS fundraising is The ALS Association of Texas, alstexas.org, which provides ground level services and support to patients suffering from this horrible disease. Additionally, it is a leading financial supporter of global research and clinical care centers around the state of Texas. We're proud to be supporters of the great work they do around the state, and country, to end this debilitating disease. We also make a generous donation to the Terlingua community each year. Our cook-off is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization. All sponsorships are 100% tax deductible, helping further the ALS cure.

Event Information

Thousands of “chili-heads” gather yearly and swell the population of the tiny, remote ghost town of Terlingua the first weekend of November. It’s a gathering of folks from all walks of life. Thursday and Friday, cooks compete in the various cooking competitions for Brisket, BBQ Chicken, Ribs, Beans, Black-eyed peas, Verde Chili, Margaritas, and The Last Chance Chili qualifying cook-off. The Championship Chili Cook-off that cooks travel from all over to compete in is held on Saturday. Turn in is “high-noon” and always features performances by cooks and other show performers while folks wait for judging to complete.

Every night features a concert and dance at the “Behind The Store” Pavilion to round out the day. Cooks and spectators make their way to the pavilion to let loose and enjoy the evening. Over the years our stage has featured stars such as Ray Wylie Hubbard, Nikki Lane, Gary P. Nunn, Pat Green, Mike and the Moonpies, James McMurtry, Jason Boland, Dale Watson, and many more.

Our website is www.abowlofred.com and cook-off email address is abowlofred@gmail.com.

Sponsorship Opportunities

We have great sponsorship packages for every budget, and we are a 501c3 organization, so all sponsorships are 100% tax deductible!
