Attention BBQ Cooks

For BBQ cooks who are NOT qualified for OTICCC, all will pay $50 per person at the gate. However, when you register to cook, you will be allowed one free tray per the paid admission. If you are cooking two or more meats, you will need to list the person who is not qualified who receive the 2nd paid for armband when you register to cook. No more than 2 free trays per cook are allowed.

The Friday Events Volunteers will have a list of the Qualified cooks who did not have to pay admission to verify who must pay $25 for all meat entries.

Example: A BBQ team comes to the gate. All entering who are not qualified must pay the $50 per person fee and will receive an armbands to enter the site. When they register to enter the competition, they will be given one free entry tray. If they are cooking two meat categories and paid for a spouse/guest who is not cooking and not qualified, you must list the name of the person on the form to receive a second free tray. Only two free meat entries per cook.

While the Registration Table will have entry forms, it will speed up the process if you fill out the form and bring it with you to cookoff registration with your payment, cash or check.

Rules and Turn-in times for Friday events are posted on the Tolbert website under Resources. (<https://abowlofred.com/resources>)
